Notes and Activities

This morning we switched around our schedule. After breakfast, we had free play, then circle time, and then walked down to Jory's school for his music program. The kids were all perfectly behaved and we got several compliments. We came home and had lunch. We are planning on some outside play time after snack today.

We read these books

Morning Circle: Clowning Around
Naptime: There's A Bird on my Head
Afternoon Circle:
